

CAR HITS UTILITY POLE

Yardley Man, 22, Killed In Auto Crash

A Yardley man died early this morning in Helene Fuld Hospital, Trenton, three and one-quarter hours after his car smashed into a utility pole in Lower Makefield Township.

The dead man is Stephen S. Young, 22, of 165 S. Main St., who was traveling north on Makefield Road, police said, when he apparently fell asleep, ran off the road and snapped the pole at E. School Lane.

Young was alone in his 1964 Corvair at the time of the crash at about 2:30 a.m.

Police were attracted to the accident site by a bright flash in the sky caused when the guy wires of the pole snapped and whipped over the power lines. Electricity to the area was interrupted until emergency repairs were made.

When police arrived, they summoned the rescue truck from the Yardley - Makefield Fire Co. to help free Young from the wrecked auto. He was semi-conscious at the time. Two Yardley physicians, William B. Tomlinson and Albert White were also summoned along with the Morrisville Union Ambulance which took Young to the hospital.

Death was due to multiple internal and external injuries, a hospital source said. It was the 15th fatality this year on Bucks County Roads.

Young was employed as a clerk at the Morrisville Station of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Young of the Yardley address, two brothers, Robert and Edward, and two sisters, Eleanor and Jennifer. Funeral arrangements will be under the direction of John J. Fitzgerald, Yardley.

The accident was investigated by Sgt. Charles E. Ronaldo of the Lower Makefield Township Police.

'No Whitewashing'

Ala. To Seek Death Penalty In Slaying

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI)—Alabama authorities today apparently intend to seek the death penalty for four Ku Klux Klansmen arrested in the sniper slaying of a white woman civil rights worker.

"There will be no sweeping under the rug of whitewashing of this case," said state Atty. Gen. Richmond Flowers Friday night. "We will ask for the maximum penalty if we get the evidence."

The Klansmen were arrested by FBI agents Friday and U.S. Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach said at a Washington news conference with President Johnson "I think we've got the men we want."

The group was charged with conspiring to violate the civil rights of Mrs. Viola Liuzzo, a 39-year-old Detroit mother of five who was shot to death Thursday night on U.S. 80 while running shuttle service for civil rights demonstrators following a mass demonstration at the Alabama Capitol.

Determined
FBI Quiet
On Details

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The FBI, still smarting from the results of civil rights murder cases in Georgia and Mississippi, is investigating the Alabama slaying of a Detroit housewife with fierce determination.

The determination can be seen in the FBI's absolute refusal to release even meager details in the killing of Mrs. Viola Liuzzo and the arrests of four Ku Klux Klansmen accused in connection with the slaying.

As one observer put it: "They're not about to jeopardize any evidence in this case."

While the FBI never gives blow-by-blow details of a crime, it does provide general details surrounding a case. But the extent of information being released in the Alabama killing has been President Johnson's stern statement Friday.

A similar blackout on details by local police in Alabama has also added to the sparsity of information.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover's men pride themselves in compiling evidence which results in 97 per cent of the persons they arrest pleading guilty as charged. And only a few of the remaining 3 per cent escape conviction.

The FBI was sure it had that kind of case against two Georgia men accused in the killing of a Washington, D.C., Negro educator. The victim, Lemuel Penn, was shot to death while driving his car in north Georgia last July.

Despite FBI evidence, the defendants were acquitted in a local jury trial.

Woman Stabbed Watching TV

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—A television program Friday night amused Mrs. Rose Rose, 72, at her home in the Lawndale section here. She laughed.

Then, she told police, her husband Lorenzo, 76, came from the kitchen with a carving knife and accused her of laughing at him.

He slashed at her, stabbing her several times in the abdomen and once in the throat before her screams were heard by a daughter-in-law who lives next door.

Mrs. Rose was reported in critical condition today.

Rose, a retired railroad worker, was treated at a hospital for a hand cut. He told police he didn't remember the stabbing.

the United Klans of America. The other Klansman, Collier LeRoy Wilkin Jr., 21, of Fairfield, Ala., was to be given a hearing on an additional charge of violating his probation. Wilkin was put under two years probation last November for possessing a sawed off shotgun.

The three released Klansmen were identified as Eugene Thomas, 43, of Bessemer, Ala.; of Bessemer, and Gary Thomas Rowe Jr., 31, of Birmingham. Rowe had to be restrained by FBI agents when he tried to hit a news photographer.

Thomas, Wilkins and Eaton were arraigned before U.S. Commissioner Louise O. Charlton in Birmingham. Rowe appeared before a commissioner in Selma.

Press Maximum Charges

Flowers said he had contacted Circuit Solicitor Arthur E. Gamble Jr. whose district includes Lowndes County, where the slaying occurred, and the state would press maximum charges "if it is a first degree murder case and from early reports it seems to be one."

Gov. George Wallace Friday night called the killing an "outrageous crime" and said such acts "will not be tolerated" in Alabama.

Frogmen Use Underwater Bomb

Viet Reds Blow Hole In U.S. Cargo Ship

SAIGON (UPI)—Communist Viet Cong frogmen blew a hole in the stern of a U.S. navy cargo ship in Da Nang with an underwater bomb today but failed to sink the converted LST. Elsewhere a series of South Vietnamese government raids seized vast supplies of Communist arms.

Heavy clouds blanketed North Viet Nam and the South China

Sea today and spared the Communist North another American air raid. Informed sources said land-based planes and the U.S. 7th fleet were poised to strike when the mission was scrubbed.

The United States has recently begun a series of almost daily raids against the North and U.S. Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor was flying to Washington today to press for more and bigger air attacks on communist installations above the 17th parallel.

Looking Up

Informed sources said Taylor would tell President Johnson that things are finally looking up in South Viet Nam. Taylor was said to be particularly pleased with the progress toward political stability demonstrated by the government of Premier Phan Huy Quat.

Da Nang is the site of a big U.S. airbase from which bomb raids against North Viet Nam have frequently been launched. About 3,500 Marines were moved in three weeks ago to protect it.

The ship was moored to a quay on the Vinh Dien riverfront, 200 yards from the Grand Hotel, where many U.S. servicemen live.

The Red attack on the ship led to the first public disclosure that Japanese civilian crews are manning small Navy freighters which ply between the Philippines, Formosa, Okinawa and South Viet Nam.

Crewmen of another converted LST that docked today in Yokohama, Japan, said there about 800 Japanese working on the freighters. Although they are not officially on combat duty, they are exposed to the risk of sneak attacks like today's.

The Sun Comes Shining Through

Wet, wintry weather that marked Spring's first week appeared to be at an end.

Sunny skies and temperatures in the 50s are forecast for today and tomorrow but don't be in a hurry to put your overcoat away. Temperatures are expected to drop about 25 degrees tonight to an overnight low between 25 and 30 degrees.

A return to rainy weather is a possibility for Monday but this may be only a preview of April showers.

10,000 Margin Predicted

Officials See Abel Winner Of USW Election

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The consensus among labor, industry and government officials here appears to be that I. W. Abel has won the election for the presidency of the United Steelworkers union.

Abel, currently secretary-treasurer of the union, challenged President David J. McDonald for the $50,000 job in a

Feb. 9 election. Results have not been officially announced.

The challenger's backers said they expected the count to show that Abel won by a relatively narrow margin—10,000 votes or less—in the balloting by the union's 828,000 members.

A steel company official said that "Abel seems to have it locked up."

The same sentiment was heard at AFL-CIO headquarters from union sources who were not involved in the contest.

The union's tellers are now conducting hearings on protests over the balloting in major cities. They are required to mail certified results of the balloting to union members by May 1.

The same date is now the strike deadline for basic steel contracts. Observers here are mildly surprised that negotiations on the steel pacts have gone so smoothly without any inter-union bickering between McDonald forces and Abel supporters.

A Labor Department source said there did not appear to be any reason to doubt that Abel had nosed out McDonald. Two Labor Department observers have been sitting in on the tellers' hearings into election irregularities.

New Election Possible

If Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz found that the election was tainted through balloting hanky-panky, he could ask a federal court to set aside the results and direct a new election under government supervision.

But any such procedure would take months and probably would not affect the current bargaining, even if irregularities were found that could have affected the election outcome.

If Abel is declared the victor, he undoubtedly would replace McDonald on the AFL-CIO Executive Council. McDonald has headed the steel union since 1953 and been a major figure in AFL-CIO affairs since the merger of the AFL and the CIO in 1955.

Good Evening!

P.W. Batting for G.G.G.

Hey, that's the sun out there today. Remember?

Maybe this is it: The beginning of spring as it feels, not as it adds up to the astronomer or the meteorologist.

There's nothing quite as in-terminable as that period when we feel that spring should be here and the weather doesn't agree with us.

And there hasn't been anything quite as satisfying as the swift action of authorities on the latest civil rights murder in Dixieland.

Maybe, at long last, Congress will lower the boom on the bigots who make up the KKK.

The Klan is un-American if anything ever has been.

Communism seeks to exterminate or convert us because we disagree with its governmental ideology. The Klan exterminates because it disagrees with the way we look. Which is worse?

And over in Viet Nam the cancer of news suppression is spreading. Newsmen can't even get near the big U.S. air base there.

It may be, of course, that the war is going well. It may be that our policy in Viet Nam and our escalation of that war is winning.

But when the policy is to keep the truth from the public, we suspect exactly the opposite. When any administration or any policy loses the confidence of the people, it can't win. And it's about time the Pentagon learned that basic truth.

If you watch TV you could figure that the Russians are ahead of us in space shots but we have them licked in deodorants.

The only time a woman won't look in the mirror is when she's backing out of a parking space.

It's the weekend again. Drive carefully. And go to church.

School Aid Bill Passed By House In Toughest Test

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The keystone of President Johnson's education program, a $1.3 billion school aid bill, is past its toughest test. The proposal, pegged primarily to the improvement of schooling for poor children, passed the House Friday night in a 263-153 vote. It now goes to the Senate, which traditionally has been friendlier to federal school aid than the House.

A Levittown No. 2 fireman douses burning transformer after yesterday's explosion at Philadelphia Electric's sub-station on Mill Creek Road, Levittown. The remainder of the 33,000-volt transformer is still dangling in mid-air. (Courier-Times Photo)

Transformer Blast Flickers Lights

An explosion of a 33,000-volt transformer at a Philadelphia Electric Co. sub-station yesterday afternoon caused lights to flicker in hundreds of homes in Levittown - Fairless Hills area. The explosion, which was heard throughout the neighborhood, took place at 3:57 p.m. at PE's sub-station on Mill Creek Road, at Edgely Ave., in Bristol Township.

It caused a minor fire which produced a trail of black smoke throughout the area. Firemen from Levittown Fire Co. No. 2, directed by Capt. Edward Biedbeck, responded.

Two men, working inside the sub-station at the time, were uninjured. There was no disruption of electrical service.

Henry Davis, division manager for PE, said the cause of the explosion has not yet been determined. He said the potential transformer was on an intermediate voltage line and had nothing to do with the real operation of the power lines which supply electricity into homes, businesses and industrial plants throughout the area.

He said the potential transformer which exploded is a measuring device.

High voltage lines at the sub-station carrying power from Philadelphia and to New Jersey through U.S. Steel's Fairless Works plant were not affected by the flash fire.

Two Injured In Car Crash

A Levittown couple received minor injuries last evening in a two-car collision in Croydon. Both motorists were ticketed for failure to yield right of way.

Injured were Albert Dow, 43, of the Kenwood Court Apartments, operator of one of the cars, and his wife, Alice. Both went to their family physician for treatment of contusions.

The other motorist was identified as Richard D. Remley, 17, of 979 Dixon Ave., Croydon. The collision occurred at Route 13 and Franklin Ave., at 5:45 p.m. and caused an estimated $290 in damage to Dow's car and $50 to Remley's. Bristol Township Patrolman Donald Peterson investigated the accident.

Mrs. Oswald Claims Rights

DALLAS (UPI)—Marina Oswald today claimed the legal rights to her dead husband's property, the most valuable piece of which was the mail-order rifle Lee Harvey Oswald used to kill the president of the United States.

The 1964 Boys State Governor James F. O'Neal of Woodrow Wilson High School, Levittown.

This year Boys' State will be held at Pennsylvania State University June 21-29.

Speaking of guns, there's been much said — pro and con — about the firearms ordinance recently enacted by Philadelphia, establishing a more rigid control on the sale of such arms.

William H. Eastburn III, assistant Bucks County district attorney, gave his views the other night when speaking before a group of 100 Bristol Township residents.

He's against the ordinance as the City of Philadelphia now has it. He feels it still wouldn't control zip guns, stolen goods and guns seized in an illegal manner.

"It's a burden on the honest man who already is overtaxed," Eastburn remarked.

He sees such an ordinance not serving any useful purpose in Bucks County.

"I'm not in favor of such an ordinance," he stated, "unless it provided for ballistics testing of all firearms at the manufacturer's. In this way valuable knowledge could be gained.

That aid plan now pays out nearly $400 million a year.

Approval of the bill came after a hectic day in which Republicans bitterly assailed majority Democrats for cutting off debate.

Passage also broke a five year House deadlock over school aid. The last time the House approved an aid bill for elementary and secondary schools was 1960, but that measure bogged down before enactment.

—$100 million to buy library and textbooks approved by public educational agencies for the use of children and teachers in public, private and parochial schools.

—$100 million to buy library and textbooks approved by public educational agencies for the use of children and teachers in public, private and parochial schools.

—$100 million to encourage locally-operated "share time" projects in which public and non-public school students share the use of special classrooms, laboratories and shops.

—$70 million to expand educational research and strengthen state departments of education.

—An extension of the 14-year-old impacted areas aid — bill for schools claiming to be overcrowded by the children of federal workers and servicemen.

War Crimes Jury To Hear Musmanno

FRANKFURT, Germany (UPI) — Pennsylvania Supreme Court Justice Michael A. Musmanno flew here today to testify for the prosecution at the Auschwitz war crimes trial.

Musmanno's plane landed here at 8:35 a.m. (2:35 a.m. EST). Robert M.W. Kemper of Lansdown, Pa., an old friend, was on hand to greet him.

"I'm glad to be here," Musmanno grinned, "although I must say I have yet to learn how to enjoy getting up at 3:30 a.m. (the hour at which he rose to catch his plane)."

Prosecutors said Musmanno may cripple the defense at the mass murder trial.

Musmanno, who was a judge at Nuernberg, is expected to testify Monday that Nazi SS men did not face sure execution if they failed to carry out mass murder orders.

Many of the 20 men accused of killing millions at the Auschwitz death camp have pleaded they had to obey murderous orders or face fatal consequences.

Prosecutor Hans Grossmann told UPI that Musmanno heard top Nazi SS men testify at Nuernberg that "one could refuse orders to kill innocent persons — especially women and children — without coming under threat of death."

Alleged Gestapo torture master Wilhelm Boger, doctor accused of sending women and children by the thousands to the gas chambers, a male nurse who allegedly enjoyed breaking prisoners' necks with an ax handle and a man who reportedly hurled babies into bonfires are among the 20 defendants who have been on trial here since Dec. 20, 1963.

Time and again they have testified they only did their duty. They say Nazi superiors threatened to drive them, too, into the gas chambers if they disobeyed. They put the blame on disappeared or dead men — such as the late Adolf Eichmann.

Musmanno was a witness at Eichmann's trial in Israel.

The Pennsylvania's value as a witness lies in his experience the judge who presided over the trials of Nazi SS intelligence chief Walter Schellenberg, SS "killer squad" boss Otto Ohlendorf and Otto Pohl, chief administrator of Nazi concentration camps.

Grossmann wanted the Pennsylvania justice's testimony to cap the prosecution case. Trial judges refused to call Musmanno as a court expert.

The judges said his written testimony would suffice.

Grossmann said the prosecution will present Musmanno "because he can say more — and what matters is what those SS officers told Musmanno during the Nuernberg trials."

Hunt Pushed For Girl, 6

TYRONE, Pa. (UPI)—A massive search got under way along the Juniata River in Central Pennsylvania today for 6-year-old Kathy Shea. She has been missing since March 18.

About 16 fire companies, civil defense workers, scuba divers and other volunteers combed both sides of the river from here to Lewistown, a distance of about 50 miles. A flat-bottomed boat and river runabouts were to conduct a 90-mile search along the Juniata and Susquehanna Rivers.

The river, as well as hundreds of miles of rugged mountain terrain, was scoured during the past week for the blonde, blue-eyed kindergarten student who vanished on her way to the Adams school.

She spoke to a neighbor a block from the school but never arrived at class.

Amateur radio operators at strategic points along the river supplemented the regular fire and civil defense radio networks.

Numerous small boats were pressed into service to carry searchers along the swollen river.

James and Mary Shea, the girl's parents, were keeping a vigil in hopes the girl would be found. They have issued radio and television appeals for the return of Kathy.

Rail Merger Report Ready

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Interstate Commerce Commission Friday announced that an examiner's report and recommended order in the proposed merger of the Pennsylvania and New York Central Railroads will be issued at 9:30 a.m. EST Monday.

Earlier in the day, the ICC had put a 3:00 p.m. time on the announcement, then had moved the time again to 3:30 p.m.

The change to a morning rather than an afternoon hour was made, it was explained, to allow additional time during the working day for news coverage of the examiner's recommendation, and for more convenient distribution of the copy to the public.

Postponement from 3:00 p.m. to 3:30 p.m. had been made at the request of the New York Stock Exchange, which closes at the later hour. The latest announcement time is one-half hour before the exchange opens for Monday trading.

Cowgirls Fined For Stealing

RICHMOND, Ind. (UPI)—The judge blew the whistle on two members of a touring girls professional basketball team Friday.

City court Judge James Puckett fined Bertha Thompson, 25, Rockford, Ill., and Harriet Hudson 22, Milton, Iowa, $45 each for stealing hubcaps.

The girls were members of the Texas Cowgirls team which plays against male opposition in exhibition games throughout the country.

Johnson, receiving the astronauts in the East Room of the White House, described them "two brave, patriotic, gallant, exceptional young Americans."

The President pinned on each man the Exceptional Service Medal of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA). He gave the 38-year-old Grissom a second award for his two trips into space.

He said the United States was "not concerned with stunts and spectaculars" but was concentrating on "sure and steady success." And he said the quickening pace of the nation's space program would mean accomplishments "far beyond this achievement" within another year.

Chamber's One-Day Drive Produces 75 New Members

The one-day membership drive of the Lower Bucks County Chamber of Commerce on Thursday produced 75 new members and was termed highly successful.

David R. Johnson, president, said yesterday that while the drive fell short of the 100 new members goal, the chamber was well pleased with the number of merchants and small businessmen who are becoming affiliated with it.

He said businessmen in the community have responded to the chamber's call for support, climaxed by the one-day drive which took the chamber's membership committee to various communities in the area by a special bus, the use of which was contributed for the day by Starr Transportation Co. of Bristol.

Johnson credited membership committee Pat Deon and Sam Krimstock with jointly signing up 20 new members.

Walt Rittler, chairman of the committee, said he wished to thank each participant in the drive for taking time out from a busy schedule for the important chamber activity.

Total membership before the drive was approximately 400.

Body Of Slain Rights Worker Returns Home In Loneliness

DETROIT (UPI)—The body of Mrs. Viola Gregg Liuzzo came home in Teamster President James R. Hoffa's plane Friday night in loneliness.

There were no crowds.

Only a few Teamster officials and a score of newsmen met the plane which carried the remains of the white civil rights worker slain in the aftermath of the Selma to Montgomery, Ala., march.

Her husband was at home under sedation. Their five children were with him.

The union plane, a twin-engine Lockheed Lodestar, was sent from Detroit to Montgomery to pick up the body.

Simple Casket

It arrived at Detroit City Airport at 10:50 p.m. It was pulled tail first into a hanger, and the simple, gray cloth-covered casket was removed and placed in an ambulance.

A spokesman for a West Side

Funeral Home said the body of Mrs. Liuzzo would be prepared for public viewing Sunday afternoon. Funeral services were scheduled Tuesday morning.

One of the Teamsters who met the plane, Charles O'Brien, Hoffa's administrative assistant said the local Teamster headquarters has received more than 1,000 telegrams from persons expressing sympathy to Liuzzo and his family, and indignation at the slaying. He said another 15,000 were received at Teamster administrative offices in Washington.

Mrs. Liuzzo's husband, Anthony, 51, is a Teamster business agent.

O'Brien also released a telegram received from Col. Albert Lingo, director of the Alabama Public Safety Department, officially notifying Liuzzo of his wife's death. The telegram received more than 18 hours after Mrs. Liuzzo was killed, but Lingo said the delay was caused by the necessity of positive identification. The telegram ended "words are never sufficient, but I wish to express my sincere sympathy to you and your family."

Liuzzo and his family went into virtual seclusion after receiving a personal telephone call from President Johnson Friday afternoon expressing the sympathy of the nation's First Family. Liuzzo told the President he believed his wife "did not die in vain."

He thanked the President for his efforts in apprehending four Ku Klux Klan members charged with the slaying.

Warminster Man Killed

KING OF PRUSSIA, Pa. (UPI)—Andre DuBois, 32, Warminster, was killed yesterday when a gas line broke while he was working at the Pennsalt Chemical Co. plant. Police said DuBois apparently was asphyxiated. He was pronounced dead at Montgomery Hospital, Norristown.

The defendants in the Mississippi slayings have yet to be tried in a local court.

The next step for federal law officials will be to decide court action against the four Alabama Klansmen.

The four currently are charged under a 95-year-old federal law—conspiracy to violate the civil rights of the dead woman. Created to fight the Klan during Reconstruction days, the law's maximum penalty is 10 years imprisonment. The 17 in Mississippi were charged under the same law.

An Alabama murder indictment would, of course, carry severer penalties if the suspects were convicted. The Alabama attorney general said Friday night the state would press capital murder charges if the evidence warranted.

It will be up to Alabama and federal prosecutors to reach an agreement on court action. The suspects are scheduled to be arraigned on the disputed federal civil rights charge April 15.
